MISS ANNIE BRADY

Classroom News:

Reading:

What a great first week and a half of school! We began our reading workshop on day one and have been working hard ever since. We have been building our reading stamina, learning about reading skills and strategies, and organizing our readers notebooks. If your student has not brought their notebook home to show you, encourage them to do so! They are looking great!

Writing:

In writing we have been working on grammar and building procedures for writing workshop. This week we will begin introducing the writing traits!

Math:

In math, we have been working on a variety of topics. We began with learning math workshop procedures, we moved onto looking at 3-D patterns, and now we are working on identifying prime and composite numbers.

Science/Social Studies:

In science, we are working on our Life Science unit. We have introduced our vocabulary and learned the basics on how organisms are classified. We will continue to learn about classification throughout the week!

Note from Miss Brady :)

What a great first week and half our class has had! I have really enjoyed getting to know your students, we have a great group! Just a few reminders: 1) Feel free to send in a family photo for the classroom; we only have a few! 2) Our first parent day is coming up! If you can, please join us on September 17 from 1:45-2:15. Please know that you MUST have a current limited criminal background check on file in the office!! If you need one, send me an email and I will send one home with your kiddo. Also, please RSVP via email by Monday, September 14!
